In Community Concert

PERCY GRAINGER

Tickets for the Andover Community Orchestra Concert featuring Percy Grainger are on sale at the Tax Collector's Office, Andover Town Hall, Tel. Miss Noyes, And. 868. The Concert is in the Memorial Auditorium at 8:15, Friday night, May 31st.

About 1900 Percy Grainger became the friend of the great Norwegian composer, Eduard Grieg, who begged him to introduce Grieg's newly composed Piano Concerto at the Leeds Festival in England. Grieg died one month before the Festival, but Mr. Grainger played the Concerto as planned and has become recognized as the greatest living interpreter of this work.

It was Eduard Grieg's deep interest in folk music which inspired Mr. Grainger to turn his attention to English folk songs. Some of these which have made him famous for their brilliant transcriptions are "Molly on the Shore," "Country Gardens" and "Shepherds Hey."

They Say

"Unique figure among contemporary musicians."—Boston Sunday Globe.

"One of the most picturesque figures of the concert stage."—Detroit Evening News.

"They cheered Percy Grainger—And rightly so. The crowd of nearly 5000 was thrilled by his playing. He gave a poetic interpretation which revealed new beauty."—Cleveland News.

Still Tickets Left For Birthday Banquet

There are still banquet tickets sitting in stores and the tax collector's office waiting to be bought and unless they are purchased or reserved by Tuesday, there may be quite a few people on the evening of June 1 who will be sorry that they weren't more foresighted.

Anyone who has ever enjoyed the casual humor of James Phinney Baxter's talks will welcome him as the principal speaker of the Tercentenary banquet. Now the president of Williams College, Dr. Baxter is a graduate of Phillips academy and

From History's Pages

In spite of the difficulties in obtaining costumes appropriate for the scenes, the historical pageant to be presented at the Playstead, May 31, at 2:00, is progressing rapidly and even without a rehearsal with all schools present the gigantic undertaking is shaping into a production surpassing anything presented in our town. A description of the undertakings of each school follows, with the cast of characters.

The aborigine settlement, the incorporation and the purchase of Andover are to be depicted in pantomime and tableau by the children of the Indian Ridge school.

Aborigine Settlement

The new land to which our forefathers came was not a vast wilderness, as many people have thought, but was tilled and made fertile by the Pennacook Indians. The Indians of the Merrimack valley spent their time hunting, fishing, planting corn and fighting, while the women were the

Burns Completes Active Navy Duty

After 34 months of active duty 18 in both combat theatres, Lt. (jg) Thomas D. Burns, USNR, of Andover, Mass., arrived at the Naval Officers Separation Center, Boston, today to be placed on inactive status.

Lieut. (jg) Burns was commissioned an Ensign in December 1943 after graduating from the USNR Midshipman School, Abbott Hall, Chicago, Ill. He was trained at the Amphibious Warfare School, Solomons Island, Mr., and then was assigned LCI duty.

He participated in the Mediterranean engagement in 1944. Returning to the United States, Burns was sent to Bold Bay, Alaska to instruct the Russians in Amphibious tactics, and operated throughout the Aleutians. His last duty station was at the Naval Personnel Separation Center Shoemaker, Calif.

A member of the Boston Bar Association, before he went to war, Lt. (jg) Burns is a graduate of Phillips Academy, Andover, Brown University, and Boston University Law School.

Besides the three area ribbons—Pacific, European-African, American—Lt. (jg) Burns wears a Commendation ribbon awarded by Admiral, H. K. Hewitt, USN, Commander of the 8th fleet, and the Victory Medal. He is the son of Attorney and Mrs. Joseph L. Burns of Boston, Mass., and one of four brothers who have served overseas in World War II.

Carter Awarded Bronze Star Medal

PFC Thomas Carter arrived home on Saturday from Le Havre, France. He had recently served for seven months with the Army of Occupation in Biarritz. He enlisted in June, 1944, and has been overseas since December 1944.

Upon arrival at Fort Devens, he was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious achievement in combat.

He plans to resume his studies at Punchard High School in June.

Ensign John F. Nicoll, U.S.N.R., is enjoying a 30-day leave at his home, 69 Summer street. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude F. Nicoll, he has spent seven months in the Pacific.

He is a graduate of the Massachusetts Maritime academy in Hyannis, Mass.

Kindergarten Registration

To Parents:

Registration of children who are to enter the Kindergarten of the Andover Public School system next September will be held on:

Tuesday, June 4—Shawsheen School at 3:30 p.m.

Wednesday, June 5—Indian Ridge School at 3:30 p.m.

Thursday, June 6—Ballardvale at 3:30 p.m.

Friday, June 7—Central Schools at 3:30 p.m.

It is suggested that the parent bring the child at this time to the Kindergarten classroom where they will have an opportunity to meet the child's teacher, as well as the principal of the school, the school nurse and the dental hygienist.

In accordance with the state law, each child must present a certificate of vaccination before entering the Public Schools.

Parents should bring proof of the child's birth date. Please note: "Pupils may enter the Kindergarten within the first four weeks of the school year providing they will be five years of age on or before the first day of January of the school year in which they enter."

Very truly yours,

Kenneth L. Sherman,

Miss Seldon to Receive B.A. Degree from Smith

Anne Kirtland Seldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Seldon, of 42 School street, is a candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts at the 68th commencement, which will be held at Smith College on June 17.

Miss Seldon, who prepared for college at Abbot Academy and Ashley Hall, majored in geography while at Smith College. She was active in several extra-curricular activities including Flying Club, Badminton Club, Geology Club, and Choir for two years. She was also a member of the student chapter of St. John.

With the return to the full commencement program, the first event will take place on Thursday night with the senior class supper. It will vary on Friday night with a performance of the senior Rally Day show in place of the usual senior play, but continue on Saturday morning with Ivy Day exercises. There will be indoor as well as outdoor events in this traditional observance of the senior class day, an alumnae parade, and during the evening the campus will be illuminated for the first time in five years. The Baccalaureate service will be held on Sunday, and in the afternoon the President, Dean, and the members of the faculty will give receptions for seniors and their guests. On Monday morning the commencement exercises will close this first peacetime program. Dr. C. E. Mees, Vice-President in charge of research at the Eastman Kodak company in Rochester, N.Y., will deliver the commencement address.

MISS LOVELY GRADUATES ON SUNDAY EVENING

Lillian Lovely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene V. Lovely, 134 Summer street is the first Bates College student to complete her hospital work under the Bates five-year nursing education plan. She will graduate from the Central Maine General Hospital of Lewiston Sunday evening, May 26. Graduation exercises will be held in the Bates Chapel.

Baccalaureate Services

Miss Lovely entered Bates in the fall of 1942, and following two years of attendance she became affiliated with the Central Maine General for an additional two years. In September she will return to Bates for her senior year, and will receive her diploma from the hospital in June, 1947, at the same time she is granted her A.B. degree from the College.

This is the fourth year the Bates five-year plan for nursing education has been in effect, and the enrollment has increased from two, the original number from Miss Lovely's class, to a current total of twenty students registered in the course. Bates is affiliated with the Central Maine General in Lewiston and the New England Baptist Hospital of Boston. A student enrolled in the nursing course spends her first two years at the College as a regular member of her class, taking the basic liberal arts course with emphasis on the natural sciences. Intervening summers and the entire third and fourth years are spent in residence at the affiliated hospital which the student chooses. After her fifth year, which she spends at the College, she is eligible for the A.B. degree, the hospital diploma in nursing and the state R.N. examinations.

TO GRADUATE

Miss Jean Hardisty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hardisty of 9 Dartmouth Road, will be graduated from the Mary A. Burnham School in Northampton, Massachusetts on Monday, June 3.

Miss Lucy Jean MacLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. MacLeod will be one of 825 senior students to be graduated at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., on May 28.

TWO PLEDGE ZETA PSI

Richard J. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton H. Stevens of 72 Morton street, and Frederick M. Boyce, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Boyce of 54 Main street, have both pledged Zeta Psi fraternity at Brown University. Both young men graduated from Phillips Academy and are members of the freshman class of Brown this year.

At Abbot...

Spring Field Day will take place on Saturday, May 25. The two opposing teams, the Gargoyles and the Griffins which during the entire year compete for school points in all the various sports on this final Field Day face victory or defeat for the year 1945-46. The main event will be the baseball game for while there is great interest in tennis and the match which will be played on Saturday, the baseball game will be the first public game of the year. Games played during the spring term have been practice games to get ready for the big event. In the meantime a tennis tournament has been in progress which will go into its finals on Field Day. Other sports will be witnessed such as general track events — running, jumping, disc throwing, and other track games.

SPEECH PROGRAM 12 Pts.
Saturday evening in Abbot Hall there will be presented an unusual program of great significance. Three students from Phillips Academy who participated in the recent Speech program at Phillips Academy will repeat their recitations at Abbot. These three topics happen to represent at least three of the Forum topics used by the Forum Group at Abbot during the past months. Concluding the program Mr. A. Graham Baldwin from Phillips Academy will sum up the material which has been dealt with in the Forums as related to the contributions the Phillips Academy students will make on Saturday night in their recitations. The program is as follows: Excerpts from

Set Your Clock at U235 read by Joel P. Nixon, by Norman Corwin.
Black Boy, read by Frank K. S. Jones, by Richard Wright.

The People — Yes, read by Earle Goodenow, by Carl Sandburg.

The Forum topics during the year have been on "The Rights of Minorities in the United States", "Atomic Energy", "Capitalism versus Labor Unions" and "Present Day Political Philosophies". All these topics have been held in the form of open discussion by the students.

The program will open at 7:30 and the public will be cordially welcomed.

SUNDAY SERVICES

On Sunday afternoon the Abbot Choir under the direction of Miss Kate Friskin will sing at the afternoon services of the Union Congregational Church at Ballardvale. Mr. Arnold Kenseth, instructor in Bible at Abbot is the pastor there. Services take place at 4:30.

On Sunday evening the Reverend Morgan Noyes, D.D., of Montclair, New Jersey, will be the speaker for Vespers services.

PARADE

In the parade on Memorial Day Abbot will be represented by an original float executed by Mr. Abbott Cheever and a committee of faculty and girls. The whole student body of the school will march in the parade.

home-makers. The Indians in the aborigine scene are portrayed by the following children:

Hunter, Thomas Shepherd; Pottery Makers, Jane Nelson, Carol Valentine and Kathleen Doyle; Fishermen, Robert Rose and Lorraine Lees; Fire Maker, Janet Valentine; Canoe Workers, Ralph Arabian, William Leahy, Dennis Mills and Donald Stickney; Corn Grinders, Patricia Dolan, Janet Svenson and Maureen Darby; Indian Children, Sandra Nadeau, Patricia Doyle and Phyllis Miles; Busy Squaw, Ruth Belka.

Purchase of Andover

Three hundred years ago, the town of Andover was bought from the Sagamore Indians. The white settlers were represented by the Reverend John Woodbridge and Mr. Edmond Faulkner, while the spokesman for the Indians was Cutchamache. The Indians sold the land to the white people for the sum of 6 pounds currency, and a red overcoat. This included the land from the Merrimac River to Salem to Cambridge. The Indians were allowed to take alewives from the river, as long as they did not destroy the white man's crops.

Cutchamache is portrayed by John Rose, Reverend Woodbridge by Bartley Miller, and Edmond Faulkner by David Gordon.

Incorporation of Andover

On May 6, 1646, Andover was incorporated as a town, and named for the town of Andover, in Hants County, England, which had once been home to many of the new settlers.

The following children will participate in this scene: Glenn Moore, James Gordon, Valentine Robbins, William Miller, Edward Brogan, Daniel Nadeau and Anthony Shepherd.

The Indian Ridge teachers in charge of the school's scenes are Miss Jessie P. Brown, Miss Dorothy Kyle and Mrs. Lena Dodson.

Early Andover Industries

Out from the covers of a book will step the pupils of the North, West Center and Bradlee Schools to portray Andover's early industries. The first three scenes will be depicted by the North and West Center children, and the remaining four scenes of the episode will be enacted by the pupils of the Bradlee School. The book opens to Scene I, The Farm, Farmer Amos Blanchard portrayed by Larry Lewis and Farmer Capt., Wm. Lovejoy by James Floyd.

His Wife, Mary R. Lovejoy will be Nancy Hird, and Bondsman Wm. Ballard, Thomas Mosher.

Scene II, The cast of The Gristmill will be as follows:

Miller Samuel Frye, Kenneth Hilton Jr., Helpers: Robert Gray, Lester Dixon, Mary Frye, Geraldine Boutwell, Phoebe Frye, Barbara Williams, John Osgood and Richard James.

Our Cover

The 20th Company, 24th Infantry of the Massachusetts State Guard was inspected last month in full pack including gas masks and steel helmets in the Case Memorial Cage.

"A sharp looking outfit," the inspection went off with no hitches and some of the men caught within the camera's focus are Lt. Col. William Millea, Capt. G. C. Emmons, Sgt. Albert A. Bergeron, Pvt. Gilman, Cpl. John Keith, Cpl. Alexander Duke, Pfc. Alex Meek and Major Dolbeare, the inspecting officer.

Scene III, The Powder Mill portrays: Samuel Phillips by Thomas Merrick, John Stevens by David Haartz, Joshua Chandler by Glenn Peatman.

Scene IV is The Paper Mill and has for a cast: Thomas Houghton, Carl Buschman; Thrifty New England housewives, Priscilla Colpitts, Joyce Nason, Lola Castle, Lucille O'Hara and Leigh Henderson.

Printing is the theme of Scene V with George Nason as a Harvard Professor and James Butler and Kenneth Sparks as businessmen.

Scene VI describes the Flannel Mill with a mother enacted by Anne McFarlane and her children by Joan Jedrey and Frank O'Hara.

The Flax Mill, Scene VII, is as follows: Peter Smith, Ralph Sharpe: John Dove, Richard Lumenello; a spinner, Joan Buckley.

Thus will end our journey into the past when the book will be closed by Lucille Sherry and Robert Henderson (Bradlee School) who opened it for us so many years ago.

Teachers directing the West and Bradlee schools are: Misses Rita Foley, Helen McCarthy, Mrs. Kenneth Hilton, Barbara Eldredge, Mrs. Thompsons and Miss Mary Collins.

Early Town Meetings

The Town Meetings in Andover in 1700 were very different from those of today. Records show that the first meeting was held at the home of Lt. John Osgood, this part being played by Haydon Daley. At this meeting, Ensign John Aslebe, who is being portrayed by Robert Vaughan, was appointed to a committee consisting of two members, William Mooney and Francis Henrick, to look over and repair the records of the town.

These meetings were usually brief, quite in contrast to those in Andover today.

Shawsheen teachers directing are Miss Florence McCarthy and Mrs. Sally Donovan.

The Dame School, Stowe School

In the first episode, which concerns education during the early days, the Dame School, which was carried on in 1680, is being depicted by some pupils of the Stowe School under the direction of the Misses Eunice and Alice Stack.

This school was conducted by some goodwife who divided her time between teaching the children and doing her household duties. In payment for this instruction, the pupils helped with the housework and sometimes with the preparation of dinner.

This scene is being enacted in pantomime. The characters are portrayed by the following pupils: Dame Somersby, Eleanor Goff; Mary, her daughter, Janet Gleason; Jeremiah, Ronald Muise; Jonathan, James Adams, Jr.; Patience, Ann Smith; Hope, Cora Reed; John, Ronald Paparella; Elihue, Carl Sandberg.

Among a group of pupils who will be assembled around the narrator, and whose voices will be heard over the loud-speaker, are the following: Joan Hewett, Roberta Johnson, Joan Hebert, John Friel, Edward Doyle and William Hood.

Andover's First Teacher

The town selectmen, realizing the need of proper schooling for the boys of Andover, have voted to erect a schoolhouse and are in the process of interviewing Mr. Dudley Bradstreet, who is a candidate for the position of schoolmaster. Having satisfied themselves as to Mr. Bradstreet's qualifications, he is then escorted to the farm of Joseph Wilson where he meets some of his future students and inspects the site where the school is to be built.

The characters are portrayed as follows: Teacher, Raeburn Hathaway; selectmen, Lyman Gale, Jack Wright, Richard Graves, Richard Bramley; schoolboys, Sumner Davis, Henry White, Arthur Christie, Robert Arnold, Paul Wennick, Robert Innes, Calvin Metcalf, Reginald Wood, Wayne Jackson, Joseph Sullivan; Indians, Robert Williams, Allan Zecchini, John Murray, Elbert Weaver, Philip Parker, Paul Stefani, Carl Fraser, Bruce Jackson, William McCollum, Charles Bowman and Charles Dalton.

The teachers of the Jackson school assisting are Mrs. Adeline Wright and Miss Olive Eldridge.

Pompey Lovejoy

Again, after 300 years, we are reminded that slavery existed in Andover for some years after its incorporation. Pompey Lovejoy was a most loveable and respected slave of Captain William Lovejoy whose last name he bore, according to custom.

In this scene, we see Pompey and his wife, Rose, busy in their little cabin near Pomp's Pond getting the root beer and 'lection cake ready to be eaten at Town Meeting.

The character Pompey is portrayed by Peter Miller and the part as his wife Rose by Priscilla Tompkins.

Teachers directing are Miss Ethel Anderson and Miss Ann Harnedy.

Witchcraft

In the Witchcraft scene, the pupils of Shawsheen school will enact the trial of Martha Carrier of Andover. She was accused and tried in Salem in August 1692. Several Andover citizens testified against her, and she was found guilty and hanged. She was the only local victim of the hysteria of that period.

ONE WORLD — United Through Books

Back in November, the Junior Couteous Circle of the King's Daughters began a project that was part of a nationwide attempt to spread the light of knowledge and international understanding among the young people of the world.

A Book Committee of the Woman's Council for Post War Europe, Inc., with headquarters in New York, instituted the idea of sending Treasure Chests filled with children's books to the liberated countries of Europe and Asia, giving information about the United States and at the same time stressing the One World idea, and schools and organizations throughout the country have adopted the idea with enthusiasm that is rivaled only by the recipients of the chests that have already been sent.

The work has been going on in New England for a year and one hundred and seventy-one chests have already been sent from the United States. Two hundred more have been pledged while money has been raised that is adequate to send another hundred.

In France the chests have been placed in schools; in Yugoslavia, in orphanages, and in Denmark, the first chest was exhibited all over the country through Children's Library in Copenhagen. Other countries have also appreciatively reported the reception of chests.

The Junior Couteous Circle adopted the plan in the fall under the direction of Mrs. C. Edward Duchan, program advisor, and it has been the major service project of the group this year.

Committees in charge of the

A Treasure Chest built, decorated and filled with thirty books for children of liberated countries is shown with several of the members of the Junior Circle of the King's Daughters whose enthusiastic efforts brought about its completion last week at the annual meeting. They are: Misses Ruth Glennie, Cynthia Black, Claudia Nicoll, Letitia Noss and Marguerite Shaw.

work have been chairmaned by the following members: chest committee (building) Jane and Joan Draper; decorating committee, Ruth Glennie; contact committee, (contacting organizations which might be interested in making chest contributions) Peggy Shaw; ways and means, Letitia Noss; scrapbook committee, Janet Covey.

The books that were carefully chosen to interest all age groups are printed in English but most contained pictures telling their own story. Many of the children in the liberated countries have expressed an eagerness to learn English and specifically asked for books in that language.

In decorating the chest, the words TREASURE CHEST were painted on the outside lid and inside were printed the words OUR WORLD, UNITED THROUGH BOOKS.

A scrap book of pictures, drawings and information concerning Andover and New England was added with the thought of showing the children receiving the chest a real picture of this part of the country and of our town, and since similar chests are going to Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, England, France, Greece, Holland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Norway, the Philippine Islands, Poland and the Soviet Union the hope of drawing the children of these lands into a firm bond of friendship and understanding in a peaceful world comes even closer to realization.

The chest itself is just a strong wooden box with a lid and a padlock 16 inches in length, 12 inches the right size to contain thirty in width and 12 inches in height, choice books.

It was completed and filled last week and the Junior King's Daughters will keep it, perhaps displaying it at the Memorial hall library, until word has been received where and when to send it as only a limited number may be shipped at one time.

How well the chests that have been sent from other organizations are achieving their purpose is indicated in a letter received from Belgium which reads, "The scholars of Notre Dame de Lourdes at Jette, Brussels, have received a new proof of American generosity and willingness to help others, by the allotment of several books which will be of much help to us, since it was the very thing we wanted to study English not only from necessity, but to be able to know better your great nation that grieves at all the distresses."

V. A. Needs Workers

With the arrival yesterday from Washington of Mrs. Mildred I. French, recruitment specialist, the Veterans Administration began recruitment of clerks, typists and stenographers for work in Washington where the assistance of this type of personnel is urgently needed to carry on the huge task of serving the rapidly increasing number of veterans of World War II.

This recruitment offers young men without experience, just getting out of the service, an excellent opportunity to become established in government work at good salaries. It also offers opportunities for young men and women who are qualified typists and stenographers. Veterans will be given preference but the recruitment is not limited to veterans.

Salaries, including overtime, range from $1959 to $2035 a year. Under present budget restrictions the Veterans Administration cannot pay travel to Washington but will see that those responding to this call obtain adequate living quarters.

Mrs. French will be at Veterans Administration Branch Headquarters daily from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and will conduct evening interviews by appointment. Branch Headquarters are at 55 Tremont street, with alternate entrance at 7 Beacon street and the recruitment office is room 254, telephone Lafayette 8600, extension 558.

Last Registration Before Primaries

The last and very last time for prospective voters in Andover to register in order to cast their ballot in the State Primary election to be held June 18 will be the 29th of May when the Town clerk's office will be open for registration from 12:00 noon until 10:00 p. m.

The current annual check-up and correction of addresses on the voting list is in process now and notices are being sent to over 100 people whose names did not appear on the recent street list and who will consequently be dropped from the voting list unless correction is made by next week.

Carrying the following warning, "This is to notify you that your name has not been entered in the annual Register of Voters for this year. Your name will not appear on the voting list unless you can show that you had a legal residence in this town on January 1." Notices will go out to each of the people listed below. It is hoped that they will not be treated lightly but that the necessary corrections will be made so that Andover will have a strong voice in the coming election.

Editorials

Yes, it's our celebration. It's a celebration of a rather tremendous milestone in the history of a town whose history has been one of which every one of us can be indeed proud. You're going to hear plenty about the town, and you're probably going to learn quite a bit that you hadn't but should have known before. So we're not going to spend any time in this final pre-Tercentenary editorial talking about the town's great past, nor hoping for an even greater future, but we are going to mention a few ways in which you can help during the celebration, a few things that you should do to make Andover feel that her sons and daughters really knew how wonderful a town she is, and how very much she deserves something pretty special in the way of a birthday party.

The town's merchants have done pretty well in decorating the center of the town. How about the rest of you? You've all got a flag; if you haven't, you should have. But don't hide it those four days. Bring it out; let it wave. Keep it at half-mast on Memorial Day morning in honor of those gallant boys who gave their lives so that the flag might long wave, and in the afternoon and in the three remaining days, let those stars and stripes wave from every single Andover home.

The program's a good one; it's a result of a lot of work that has had to be hard work, because time was so short. Don't miss any of it. And don't let any of your relatives and out-of-town friends miss any of it, either. Have them up for the long week-end. Show them by your own hospitality what a very hospitable town Andover is.

There's a parade; everybody will see that, anyway. There's something about a parade. And there are sporting events, lots of them. They're well worth your attendance. The two musical events are something you won't want to miss. Percy Grainger of course is pretty good, and we're glad to have him here as guest soloist for the Community Orchestra concert — but our own Community Orchestra is good, too. Everett Collins' Male Choir and all its augmentations certainly should provide a long-to-be-remembered treat.

And the banquet. Tickets aren't going too well. Maybe the promotion hasn't been too effective, but actually you can get tickets at almost every business place in town, the banks, and about thirty stores. Don't wait until the last minute. You know how food is these days, and help, too. The caterer has to know by Tuesday. Be sure to get your ticket by then. You have to eat anyway, and you won't have to stand in line to hear some more or less Diogenic clerk tell you "No Meat." The speaker list is no cause for worry, as so many dinner speaker lists are. Besides the dignitaries, there is James Phinney Baxter as the principal speaker, and the President of Williams has a voice that's pleasant to listen to and there's a mind behind it that makes it worth listening to.

And don't forget — Sunday morning, go to church to hear the historical sermons, and to say a prayer of thanksgiving to Almighty God for having given you a town like Andover to call your home.

From History's Pages

The characters are portrayed by the following pupils: Magistrate, Edward Dean; Martha Carrier, Frances Dunlavy; clerk, Robert Erler; examiner, John O'Connor; Abigail Williams, Betty Born; Susan Sheldon, Janet Thompson; Benjamin Abbott, Robert Best; Phoebe Chandler, Marcia Tangney; spectators, Jean Farrell, Jane McKiniry, Anne Merchant, Lois Craig, Dorothy Dunn, Mary Anne Faggiano, Eva Stern, Betsy Caswell, Mary Ellen Winters, Billy Edwards, Barry Guertin, Tommy Pearl, William Gens, Harold Whitworth, Frank Killilea, Audrey Tuttle.

The Narrators will be: Alan Ganem, Dorothy Hastings, Dorothy Fowler, Jean Pearson, Felice Pomerleau, Peter Caswell, David Wilkinson, William McKay.

Memorial Hall Library

The founding of the Memorial Hall and library will be depicted by a group of Stowe School children under the direction of Misses Katherine Sweeney, Mary Burke, Mina Noyes and Catherine Barrett.

Robert Savage will portray the part of Phillips Brooks, the minister who officiated at the dedicatory ceremony of the South Church in 1873.

Historical Characters

The children of St. Augustine's School will take part in two numbers of the Historical Pageant. The Eighth Grade pupils will turn back the pages of memory where are found many outstanding celebrities who have visited our historic town. Yes, these are pleasant memories of bygone days when Frederick Connors depicts George Washington meeting Miss Priscilla Abbott, who is none other than his little sister Elaine, when Richard Hoyer represents Lafayette, the "Nation's Guest", affectionately addressed by William Ronan in the person of Reverend John Kneeland, when Agnes McAtamney recalls the memory of Harriett Beecher Stowe and her loved "Uncle Tom's Cabin", when Oliver Wendell Holmes and Ralph Waldo Emerson will be impersonated by Joseph Stack and Robert McCabe, when, last but not least, Jerry Davey will recall the memory of Dr. Samuel Smith, as Uncle Sam, enacted by Alfred Davis, and his attendants, Mary Ann Lynch and Kathryn Farragher, march to the tune of our National Hymn, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," the masterpiece of Dr. Smith.

The Seventh Grade pupils will enact the Acadians' stay in Andover. Elizabeth Locke, dressed as an Acadian peasant girl, holds a map of Nova Scotia. It is attached by a ribbon, bearing the date 1756 to a map of Massachusetts, held by Margaret Grecoe dressed as a Puritan maid. This set-up forms the foreground of the stage while a tableau of the Acadians occupied at household tasks fills the stage center. Richard Gervais and Theodore Grandmont are the Acadian farmers. The peasant women and girls are: Dorothy Belanger, Patricia Bergeron, Joan Matton, Mary Morrissey, Gloria St. Jean and Sally Sutcliffe. All costumes are of the pre-Colonial period.

Wars

Punchard pupils are working hard on Episode V depicting scenes from the Wars with which Andover was concerned during her three hundred years. Miss Munroe, Mr. Kellmurray and Mrs. Hardy from the faculty are organizing the material. The cast follows:

Freedom, Janet Caverly; her attendants, Justice, Barbara Johnson; Peace, Jocelyn White; Humanity, Patricia Collins.

French and Indian War will be depicted by George Haselton, Frank Serio, Ronald Demers, Jack Arabian, Laurence White, Norman Parsons, John Pingree, Laurence Marocco, William Valentine and William Ware.

The Revolution by Joseph Bulla, George Colloten, Robert Wormwood, Alan Petty, Joseph Watson, Alex Meek, John Gillis, Luke Mills, Melvin Maddox, Lyndon Gilman and Richard Baldwin.

The War of 1812 by Fred McCollum and John Wood.

The Mexican War of 1946 by Fred Cole, Walter Lloyd, Robert Godfrey, Barry Grecoe, Clifford DuBois, Robert Mitchell, Richard Kydd, Carl Wetterberg, Richard Mower, Eric Halbach, Fred Davideit, Donald Porter, Russell Spinney, Louise Crossley, Marjorie Harshaw, Jane Lynch and Eleanor Parker.

Lt. General Oscar W. Griswold, commanding General of the 1st Service Command, presented the Legion of Merit to Lt. Col. Phillip K. Allen at the 1st Corps Cadet Armory. The award was made "for outstanding service with the office of strategic service from May, 1943 to October, 1945."

The Civil War by Richard Clough and Mary Colombosian.

The Spanish American War by William Schlott, Frank Levin, Michael Mararian, Edward Henderson, George Jacobson, Joseph Bernard, Jack Barry, Thomas MacLeish, John O'Neil and Robert King.

The World War I by John McVey, William Westcott, Homer Judge, William Barron, Robert Henderson, Deighton Emmons, Jack Sherman, Philip Markey, Robert Moss, Robert Phinney, Allan Titcomb and Anthony Cavallaro.

The cast for World War II has not been completely filled.

Punchard is also working out a scene for Episode I—Education, under the heading of Punchard Resolutions. Those taking part are: Walter Demers, speaker; Jackson Pillsbury, speaker; Robert Moore, speaker; Kenneth Dennison, Horace Killam and Robert Maurice.

Founding of Academies

Phillips academy will portray its own founding in 1778 including the expansion into the Theological school in 1888 and the Missionary movement of America.

Abbot Academy students will present an episode showing the founding of the school in 1829. Emily Gerisch of Andover will impersonate Madam Sarah Abbot in the pantomime, and Ann Aulis of Wakefield, Rhode Island will take the part of Squire Farrar. The following girls will take the parts of a group of students of 1829: Nancy Brumback of Van Wert, Ohio, Jane Brown of Keene, New Hampshire, Ann Flowers of Winnetka, Illinois, Josephine Hildreth of Augusta, Maine, and Marion White of Andover.

The pageant will conclude with a finale of massed flags and organizations of today portraying the growth of UNITY, of purpose and interest.

Also bringing brief congratulatory messages will be his Excellency Maurice J. Tobin, Governor of the Commonwealth; Honorable Leverett Saltonstall, U. S. Senator; Honorable Edith Nourse Rogers, member of the House of Representatives and Honorable James Vincent Forrestal, Secretary of the Navy.

It is also expected that the Mayor and Mayoress of Andover, England, who have accepted the invitation to the Tercentenary events will also speak at the banquet.

One of the memorable occasions of the Tercentenary, it is probably the only occasion when so many townspeople have had the opportunity to sit down to dinner together.

Andover's "Borough" Friend

Mayor and Mayoress To Attend Tercentenary Events

The Borough of Andover, England, also presented with a beautiful diamond and our town of Andover, Massachusetts have been closely associated through correspondence for many years and the prospect of a visit from the Mayor and Mayoress of our coustintown during the Tercentenary celebration is anticipated with pleasure.

The announcement dated May 20th reached Roy Hardy this week and the cablegram reads: "The Mayor of Andover, England, Councillor G. D. D. Young and Mayoress Mrs. U. Sainsbury, have accepted your invitation and hope to arrive in Andover, Mass., May 30 or 31." It was signed "Young, Mayor of England."

Plans have been made to accomodate the distinguished visitors at Phillips Inn and it is hoped that they will attend the banquet in Case Memorial cage on Saturday, June 1, to address the town.

On August 2, 1944 a ceremony in Andover, England, "unique in the history of the ancient Borough," was attended by a representative from our town, Irving F. Whitcomb who was then stationed with the U. S. Army in England. The occasion was held in honor of Councillor and Mrs. S. R. Bell and a painting of the former mayor was presented to Mr. Bell, a gift of a group of subscribers for the grand work he had done for the Town and district during his four years of Mayoralty, 1939-'43. The Mayoress was

Mr. Whitcomb, then a technical sergeant, was seated on the platform and extended the greetings and best wishes to their town from ours. A message from Roy Hardy was also read as the friendship between the two towns was more firmly cemented.

During the war years contributions from both towns purchased a fighter aircraft which was named "the Andoverian" and gifts of seeds were sent each year to Andover, England in time for the Spring planting. Greatly cherished, the seeds were distributed among townspeople whose names were drawn from a hat, and files in the Town house contain many "thank you" letters from individuals as well as from the town for other gifts which were sent.

Andover, England, is an ancient borough and market town situated on the river Anton and the old highway from London to Exeter. "The atmosphere is salubrious, the town enjoying the reputation of being one of the most healthy in the southern countries."

"The name Andover contains two elements of Celtic origin, Ann and Defro, both signifying water." So our own "Shawshin" provides us with reason for the town's heritage and we, too, are situated on a highway. As for salubrioness . . . ?

JR. H. DEFEATS FACULTY LOSES TO CENTRAL C.

The undefeated Junior High baseball team defeated the faculty in a wellplayed game. The final score was 6 to 3. Edward Sullivan, right fielder, starred with a game-saving catch, also chalking up two hits for the day.

The team also played the Central Catholic Freshmen last Tuesday. Junior High lost in a one-hit game, 5 to 0.

CT. ST. MONICA HOLDS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Election of officers was held by Court St. Monica recently, with Mrs. William Coupe elected grand regent to succeed Mrs. Charles Proulx, who retired after a successful year. Others elected were: Vice regent, Mrs. Frances Keaney; prophetess, Mrs. Alice Brennan; lecturer, Mrs. James E. Coleman; historian, Mrs. Stuart Anderson; financial secretary, Mrs. Frank O'Connor; treasurer, Miss Katherine McNally; monitor, Mrs. Thomas F. Morrissey; sentinel, Mrs. Daniel V. Sullivan; trustees for three years, Mrs. Charles Proulx and Mrs. Robert T. Viveney; trustee for one year, Mrs. Gilbert Stone; organist, Mrs. Harold W. Wennik.

District Deputy Helen Clarke of Reading presided over the elections. Installation of these officers will take place on June 10th.

A May party will be held in St. Augustine's school hall on Monday evening, May 27th. The committee is as follows: Mrs. Charles Proulx, chairman; Miss Katherine McNally, Mrs. William J. Doherty, Mrs. Peter Poisson, Miss Estelle Poisson and Mrs. Florence Naughton.

Food Campaign Promises To Be Very Successful

Andover's food campaign is well underway, with financial collection boxes located in all the stores in town, and bins for collection of canned foods are being set up in grocery stores, markets and schools.

The food and money will be turned over to the national association, and thence given to the U. N. R. R. A. for distribution to the starving people in Europe.

It is urged that the various organizations in town conduct drives within their own groups, and anyone interested in participating in this manner may contact one of the following: Rev. Frank E. Dunn, Harold Hazeltine, John Friel, Rocco J. Mirisola or T. Augustine Farragher. Walter Mondale is chairman of the drive.

More than 1000 cans were collected in the schools on Monday, according to Preston Blake, chairman of the sub-committee. There was a good assortment, all large-size cans, including canned fish, meats, fruits vegetables, etc. The schools are competing with one another, and it is expected that there will be another 1000 cans ready to be collected on Friday, when the competition ends.

Everyone is asked to contribute as much as possible, and at least $1 value in canned goods or in money per person.

NO CANNING CENTER

In answer to the many inquiries, it has been announced by the town that there will be no canning center this year.

It is urged, however, that individual families have their own vegetable gardens and can as many fruits and vegetables as possible. Canning is more important than ever this year, with food drives being carried on all over the country for the relief of the starving people of Europe.

So can all you can!

MR. GREELEY VISITS WITH FATHER AUSTIN

Mr. Greeley writes that he visited Father Austin while he was in California, and found him in good health, and very well informed about the town affairs, as he receives the Townsman each week. He asked Mr. Greeley about nearly everyone in town.

"He has a very fine parish" says "Pop", and a splendid school parish hall where all social activities of the parish are held. His home is very pretty. The day we called on him was a perfect day of sunshine, and his flower garden was in full bloom, the lawn a perfect green carpet. He is very busy with his parish work, but he found time every day to take us sight seeing. He is the grandest host we ever had the pleasure of knowing."

UP!

The Board of Health has announced the annual Clean-Up week to be held from May 22nd thru May 29th.

Who cleans up? Everybody does.
In view of the town's 300th anniversary, this is especially good time to make our town the most spic and span town that the Mayor of England and all those other notables ever saw.

Let's all cooperate with the Board of Health and make Andover shine on her birthday.

MEMORIAL TREES PLANTED BY AVIS

The Andover Village Improvement Society has planted two trees in the Park, a pink and a white hawthorn. These trees are to be known as tercentennial trees, and are memorials to the two founders of the society, the late Prof. George T. Eaton, and Miss Emma J. Lincoln. Prof. Eaton and Miss Lincoln gave many years of thoughtful service in the work of the A.V.I.S. to beautify the town—so this planting is a fitting memorial.

Open Tournament At Country Club

Open to any player who has a State or club handicap card, the Tercentenary golf tournament will be held at the Andover Country Club from May 30th through June 2. Post entries will be accepted and the contest consists of an 18 hole medal play.

Prizes will be awarded to the first five low gross scorers and the first five low net. Each day there will also be a long drive contest at 5:30.

Joins Staff Of History Museum

James E. Trott, formerly of Central street, has joined the staff of the Chicago Natural History Museum as a zoological artist. He was graduated from Phillips Andover in 1938 and from Harvard in 1942. He then served as a photographic technician in the Army Air Corps for three years, fifteen months of which he spent in Corsica and Italy. After his return from Europe he lived at the home of his sister, Mrs. Walter Partridge of Walnut avenue.

B.P.W. REFUSES TO INCREASE WAGES

A request for a wage increase was received by the Board of Public Works, but the Board directed the Superintendent that it was "not in a position to grant any wage increases at this time." A year ago the then Board acceded to the requests after town meeting, creating a furore which in the end resulted in a change in the board.

BE CAREFUL ON BRIDGES

A warning to residents to be careful in the use of the bridges on Stevens street, Central street and Andover street was issued by the Board of Public Works Monday night. Some temporary repairs are to be made, with major permanent repairs coming later.

Speaker At Memorial Services Announced

Memorial services to be held in the auditorium the morning of May 30th will have as the principal speaker, Dr. Alfred E. Stearns, headmaster-emeritus of Phillips Academy.

The services will be conducted by the veterans' organizations and other patriotic services will be held Sunday, May 26, with an attendance at 9:45 mass in St. Augustine's church and a parade to the cemeteries at 2:00 in the afternoon. On the Wednesday preceding Memorial day, the veterans will go to the cemeteries to decorate the graves of their comrades.

Testimonial For Retired Policemen

A large group of policemen, firemen and friends of James Walker and Carl Stevens gave a testimonial dinner to the two retired policemen in the Legion hall Thursday night.

Mr. Walker has been with the Andover Police Force since 1923 and under the compulsory retirement act was forced to conclude his service before the celebration of the 65th birthday, June 10th.

Mr. Stevens' retirement went into effect several weeks ago when he left the force at the age of 55 under the disability clause.

Howell Shepard was the Master of Ceremonies at the dinner in honor of the two men with Roy Hardy, Chief George Dane, Alderman Louis Scanlon, Fire Chief Edward Buchan, and Captain McCormick of Lawrence giving testimonials. Mr. Stevens and Mr. Walker also spoke.

Following the dinner, dancing was enjoyed with Harold Phinney providing the music.

RECEIVES NOMINATION

Mrs. Frederick C. Smith was nominated as a regional vice-president to serve in the Northeastern district by delegates of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's clubs at their 54th annual convention held Thursday at the New Ocean House in Swampscott.

WHERE TO GO ..AND WHEN

Industries

In considering our town as "residential" we sometimes lose sight of the fact that manufacture has been going on for centuries and at a stepped up rate during present days. To better acquaint yourself with Andover's industries, it will be well worth while to visit the exhibit in Memorial gymnasium that will be open the entire four days of the celebration.

Historical Homes

Our Historical Society, that we admire from the outside and often do not take the time to visit and enjoy the many relics on exhibit within its walls, will be open from 9:00 to 9:00 in honor of the Tercentenary. Many other historical homes will also be open to the public on June 1 due to the courtesy of their present owners and the whole view of our town, past and present, gives us a broader understanding of the emotion behind the words, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

Banquet Talk

Miss the banquet? Nevaire! How would we ever explain to our progeny?

It's pretty hard to explain to ourselves why the sale of tickets is so slow when it was expected that the banquet would be one of the best attended events. Could it be that townspeople don't like a good roast turkey dinner?

Around town there has been some talk that younger people or late comers to the town have felt that the old-time residents should have priority on the tickets. It's a nice thought, but now that everyone has had ample time to voice a request for a ticket, it seems the time has come when anyone who wishes to go should step up boldly to "Jim" Christie and say, "Give me two."

There have been some questions from town women about "what to wear." The banquet, of course, will not be formal and yet with our town all dressed up for the celebration, a few formals lending color and festivity to the occasion would not be amiss, so if you have dress-up gowns that were put away during the war years, why not bring them out?

Badges

The official Tercentenary badges in blue and white are on sale at many stores in town at 25 cents. They are very smart and the sale is for the benefit of the Service men's Fund.

What's This?

The Boston Herald described the Andover Male Choir as "two hundred and fifty men, most of them bald or white-haired, middle-aged or older—250 of these—and a girl" in its report of the concert recently in Jordan Hall. "Just a bunch of guys singing out because they love music."

When the program started, the commentator received quite a shock. As he put it, the concert was not the expected "jamber-jawed revival, barber shop shoddy," but professionally executed by non-professional singers. "Isn't it too bad that the same reviewer couldn't visit Cochran Chapel the night of June 2 and hear the Tercentenary singers, which include a great number of the choir as well as other town men and women who sing because they 'love' to? He hasn't heard nuthin' yet! In Amesbury on Saturday.....

Memorabilia

The Oliver Wendell Holmes Library of Phillips academy will be open to the public the afternoons of May 31, June 1 and June 2 and with the permanent exhibition of rare books will be Washington and Phillips manuscript letters and early Andover memorabilia on display.

Original Pieces

In P. A. Concert

Phillips Academy will present a recital of original compositions by students in the department of music in Cochran chapel at 7:00 on Sunday, May 26.

John Freeman and Gilman Collier of New York city, Don Harshman of Englewood, N. J., and John Koch of Haverhill, N. H., will be represented on the program by piano pieces. H. S. Darling of Hampton, Va., will play.

Pike School In "Alice In Wonderland"

It's a little early to think about any activities beyond the Tercentenary, but the Pike school children are preparing a three act musical play, "Alice In Wonderland" and it will be presented Friday night, June 14 at 7:30 in Memorial Auditorium.

Every year the school presents an entertainment for the benefit of children and this year the proceeds will go to the Shattuck ward for children in Lawrence General hospital. The ward is at the present time being modernized to allow for a higher standard of efficiency in the care of children.

The cast which is practicing every school-day afternoon consists of the following young actors and actresses:

Alice, Corinne Byers; Caterpillar, Constance Vinciguerra; Cat, Joan Barnard; King, George Fraser; Queen, Ann Higgins; Duchess, Jane Russell; White Rabbit, Edna Grieco; Gryphon, Carmelina Vinciguerra; Mock Turtle, Nancy Allen; March Hare, Joan Morrison; Hatter, Fritz Ostherr; Dormouse, Alexis Morgan; Knave of Hearts, Lawrence Barr; Cook, Ann Wellesley Howes; Frog Footman, Caroline Benedict; Fish Footman, Wendy Allen; Executioner, Robert Stefani; Father William, Jay Morehouse; Young Men, Robin Rowland and Sully Vinciguerra; Guards Charles Dow and Benjamin Rowland; Ladies of the Court, Joan Lamprey, Elizabeth Sawyer, Barbara Ann Emmons, Marion Neil, Ann Norwood, Jane Baketel, Barbara Lee Emmona, Abigail Russell, Cornelia Weldon; Gentlemen of the Court, Frederick Cook, Richard Killen, David Brown, Bobby Batal, George Sawyer, Marco Stefani; Pages, Gael Grant, Roberta Waterston; Cards, Samuel Adriance,

Zaragueta

Phillips Academy's Spanish dramatic club present "Zaragueta", well-known Spanish comedy, in George Washington hall on Friday, May 24. The play is coached by Mr. Manuel Pinto, instructor in Spanish at Andover.

The cast includes J. W. Brydon, of Mexico City; A. G. Flues of Fillmore, Ohio; E. A. Goodenow, Jr., of Oklahoma City, Okla.; E. V. Mastrangelo of Fitchburg; F. H. Thurston of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; L. H. Gonzales of San Juan, Puerto Rico; J. Sylvester, Jr. of Newport, R. I.; and L. D. Fitzsimmons, Jr. of New Orleans, La.

Spanish music to serve as a prelude to the play will be played by J. S. Darling, 3d of Hampton, Va., and J. W. Freeman of New York.

At the suggestion of many of those who have entered their orders for the Townsman Tercentenary Book, we have decided to postpone the final printing in order to have included in the book the proceedings of the anniversary observance, with pictures of the parade, the sporting events, the banquet, etc. Thus, the book will be a truly complete souvenir of the occasion.

A great volume of material, including old pictures, has been compiled for the book. Donald Look and Donald Surette have both been busy taking present-day pictures, with the former having spent several days photographing life in Andover in these days. The extra time will allow more pictures to be taken.

Every club in Andover and every church is having a historical article in the book. Most of the business firms are also included.

One local citizen who had ordered fifteen copies saw a paste-up dummy of the book this week, and immediately said: "I guess I'd better get ten more."

Orders may still be left at the Townsman office or at any of the news stores. However, this should be done immediately as the supply will be limited. We are now nearing the 4,000 mark in orders, and while we will print some more than that, it is difficult to estimate the ultimate potential sale.

"Inspiration of Youth" Annual Public School Art Exhibit

Andover art lovers and friends of the youth at the Andover Public Schools again have an opportunity to view the annual exhibition of work done by the pupils in the public schools of the town, May 28—June 4. The work will be exhibited in two groups.

STUDENTS' ART CLUB

Through the generosity of the Lawrence Gas and Electric Company the Student Art Club exhibit of the junior and senior high schools, produced under the direction of Miss Frances Dalton will be displayed in their window. Work of the members of this club, some items of which have already won recognition in form of prizes, shows the versatility and skill in using variety of medium and technique.

Mr. Harry Sutton, the November Club, and the Shawsheen Woman's Club have contributed money for prizes for the three best exhibits in this group. Honorable mention will be awarded those adjudged the next best. The sketch awarded first prize will receive the additional honor of being framed and hung in the Art Room at the junior high school.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Because of lack of space in downtown show-case windows, work in the first six grades, under the direction and supervision of Mrs. Dorothy F. Sanborn, will be exhibited in the Music Room at the junior high school. There it may be viewed during any time that the building is open.

An interesting feature of this exhibit will be a display of easel paintings by first grade pupils, each subject and its execution growing from the individual inspiration of each young artist, who worked independently upon his subject while the other members of the class were engaged in other work under the direction of the teacher.

For the first three grades the emphasis will be placed on original crayon illustrations of many stories read and loved by children of these grades. Crayon sketches of youthful activities, present-day transportation, and life in the countries of the North, Holland, and China provide variety of interest.

Additional items for the fourth grade include, for construction work, token poles and Indian beads. Besides crayon sketches, potato block printing in colored paints will prove an interesting feature.

Grade five specialties are a series of illustrations for the all-time famous story of Pinocchio, a series of water color landscapes of our National Parks, and an exhibit of border designs in free brush painting.

Grade six sketches are correlated with the social sciences in sketches of life in Switzerland and in China, and a series of sketches picturing modes of transportation, past and present. Its exhibition also features free brush painting in central balance design.

Only by a visit to these exhibitions can one realize the potential abilities of our young people of Andover, who are most fortunate to have the instruction and supervision of such talented artists as Miss Dalton and Mrs. Sanborn.

"See America First" Says Mr. Greeley

"We have now traveled a little over 5000 miles. I have listened to people talk about the grandeur of foreign countries and have read about them, but I don't believe these people have ever seen this country first or last. If they did, then I don't see how they could ever say any place on earth is grander than this country. The large orange groves, the lemon groves, date groves, apricots and peach groves and grape vineyards are grand to see, but nothing impressed me as much as the walnut orchards. Almost every one of these groves have their own irrigation system, and these orchards get plenty of moisture.

"We are starting Wednesday for the City of Portland, Oregon. We will go through the great redwood forest. In San Francisco I saw a plank board that measured 10 feet 6 inches across cut from one of these trees.

"Going from Oakland over the golden gate bridge which is 7½ miles long is a grand drive. In the harbor were anchored over 400 Navy ships. My cousin, an officer on one of them, gave me the information. Very close to the bridge is the island of Alcatraz where the prison riots of a few days ago happened. It is colder here in Oakland and San Francisco than in Andover, Mass."

FROM A VERY CONFUSED SUBSCRIBER

Spring, gardens, Memorial Day, and a 300th birthday celebration are all turning out to be almost too much for people.

Spring (the sun was out three whole days last week, rah, rah, rah) always means a general lightening of spirits and a looking-up of things in general. (We certainly have been looking up this spring—looking up to see if there was possibly a break in the clouds. Spring is usually enough to keep us interested until

Memorial Day

Memorial Day is a time of remembering, of honoring the men who have died for their country, placing wreaths and flowers on their graves, and on the graves of relatives and friends.

After Memorial Day it is understood to be open season for white shoes, straw hats and painted legs.

Then summer sets in with sports, vacations and hot weather, and we settle down to it with a vague comfortable feeling of what a nice spring it was. Nothing spectacular.

But this year! We are absolutely giddy with all that is going on. A huge parade. A huge banquet with so many well known people. The mayor and mayoress of England. Two concerts. A super pageant. An industrial exhibit. Sports and sports. The town all covered with decorations. Everyone proudly wearing a Tercentenary button.

Well, you see how it is? It's just too much for most of us. And do we love it!

At The Library

During the days of the celebra- tion of the Three Hundredth Anni- versary of the town, the library will observe the following hours:

On Thursday, Memorial Day, the library will be open from 12:00 noon to 1:30 p. m. for the pleasure of those who may have come home. No books will be circulated at this time, or on Sunday afternoon.

On Friday, the library will be open from 9:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m., and 6:00 to 9:00 p. m.

Saturday, June 1, the regular hours of 9:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. will be observed.

On Sunday afternoon, June 2, the library door will open from 2:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. It is hoped that many who have been away from the town for a period of time will take a few moments to see the changes that have come to the library, and perhaps find a quiet moment for rest.

"ADVENTURES IN READING" LISTS

Books listed in the "Adventures In Reading" pamphlet have been gathered from their various classifica- tions and grouped together on the shelves directly across from the charging desk in the reading room of the library. Because of the in- creased use of these books it will be simpler to locate them if they are set aside. Several new titles have been purchased recently, a brief list of which is noted here. Reserves may be made for any book wick may be out at the time.

One Destiny Sholem Asch

In this book, Sholem Asch speaks plainly to his Christian brothers of his belief in the common heritage and common goal of man. He asks that America accept her special mission in healing the wounds of the world.

Pursuit Of Understanding Dunn

This book has been called "the autobiography of an American ed- ucation." A distinguished teacher writes with humor and insight of the fun of learning. The author holds the chair of Mary Augusta Jordan, Professor of English at Smith College.

In Spite Of All Wallace

How famous people have met adversity with pluck and fortitude. Some of those listed are Beethoven, Browning, Parkman, Ma d a m e

Curie, Sir Walter Scott, and Kath- arine Butler Hathway.

Those Of The Way Sperry

A series of meditations prepared especially for the Lenten season, by Willard L. Sperry, Dean of Harvard Divinity School.

Psychology Of Religion Johnson

A comprehensive psychological analysis of what it means to be religious.

The Gospel According to Bamalliel Heard

A story based on historical fact and rooted in spiritual discern- ment; the teacher of Saul observes Jesus and the beginnings of Chris- tianity.

Freedom's People Overstreet

Mrs. Overstreet has made an in- spiring study of the human prere- quisites for a free world.

By The Waters Of Babylon Lister

The theme of this novel is the ageold conflict in understanding that has kept the Jewish and Chris- tian peoples from a more perfect sympathy.

Man's Most Dangerous Myth: The Fallacy Of Race Ashley Montagu

A scientific consideration of the ideology of race from the point of view of anthropology, genetics, biology and psychology.

Religion And Our Racial Tensions

The third of a series of volumes on RELIGION IN THE POST-WAR WORLD, edited by Willard L. Sperry.

The American Merchant Marine Library Association has sent an- other request to the library for help in the collection of books for use in their service to the men of the Merchant Marine, various branch- es of the Coast Guard, and the Navy as well. This service, found- ed to meet the demand of the men for reading matter, permits ships to exchange libraries at any of the Association's branches in fifteen principal ports of the U. S. A.

In order to carry on this work, they write us that they are greatly in need of more and more good books, old or new, recreational or informative, fiction—non-fiction—educational—technical, and ask us to bring this request to the public. Magazines will be gladly accepted. Please leave anything you may have that will ease this need at the

New England farmers have come to depend on the telephone for conducting more and more of their business and personal affairs. They use it for such essen- tial activities as ordering repairs; keeping in touch with buyers; handling produce; selling direct to consumers; and ordering feed and supplies.

That's why we're carrying out a comprehensive program for making the telephone available to more New England farmers and for improving the present quality of service. Right now, for example, we're furnishing without charge a half mile, rather than a quarter mile, of pole line fixtures and circuit. In the years ahead, we'll be reducing the number of subscribers on any rural line (eventually there will be no more than eight); con- verting more and more areas to dial service; bringing in new and improved types of equipment. Over $4,000,000 will be spent on this big job just as fast as manpower and materials become available.

About half the families in New England rural areas now have telephone service. In the days ahead, the telephone will be doing an even bigger and better farm job throughout New England.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Training New Scouts

Several leaders of Troop 71 met at the home of District Commissioner Walter C. Caswell on Thursday evening May 16 with boys who are training for their Tenderfoot tests. Candidates present were Charlie Koza, Everett MacAskill Jr., Jimmie Baillie, Louis Mirisola, Scott Gerrish, Allan Barlow, Eddie Dean, Chris Twomey, Louis Hamilton and Arthur Mooney. Everett MacAskill Jr., completed his Tenderfoot requirements. Other candidates who are studying for their Tenderfoot tests are Arthur Batsch, Tommy Wilkinson, Louis Fiedler, Peter Miller, Walter Tomlinson, and Peter Dunlop. Jack Caswell is transferring from Troop 72 to the new Troop. The next meeting is being held at 5 Dunbarton street on Thursday evening May 23 at 7:15 p. m. Boys who cannot attend because of church responsibilities will be given training by appointment.

Troop 72 Notes

Boy Scouts of the Free Church meeting Friday evening, May 17, enjoyed a full program of knot relays, scout skill games, basketball, and instruction in the flint and steel method of making fire without matches. During the week tests will be passed in pacing, compass, and fire building. Scouts Richard Wrigley and John McGrath volunteered for service on a work crew to assist in fixing up Camp Conway, the Boy Scout Camp. The Flaming Arrow Patrol is leading the patrol contest. Joseph Keltie who served in the U. S. Navy and Clement Gordon who was in the Army during the past war have registered as Troop Committeeman and Assistant Scoutmaster respectively.

Plan Outdoor Meeting

Pack Committee Chairman Edward J. O'Connor and his staff of Cub Pack 71 are planning an outdoor meeting early in June. An outdoor cook-out, business meeting, awarding of achievement badges, and other activities will be on the program.

"Yes, Our

has increased, too

Like your own home or business, it certainly costs more to run a transportation company these days. To be sure, our revenues increased during the war years (due to increased riding) . . . but nowhere near in proportion to the amounts paid out for operation and maintenance. Our 1945 gasoline bill, for instance, was 130% higher than 1941's. Our tire bill was 70% greater. We had 536 more employees; wages and bonuses paid were nearly doubled in total. Yet with all this, your rides on our system cost you no more (except for Federal taxes on fares over 35 cents). We're still furnishing a pre-war dollar's worth of transportation for your post-war dollar.
